Don't remain a "hunt-and-peck, two-finger" typist the whole of your career in journalism

Being a touch typist allows you to work faster and more accurately. You look professional as a touch typist.

It's easy to learn, and for nothing. Try any one of these websites:

sense-lang.org/typing

www.typingtutor.net

www.typingpal.com

I have not checked-out each one. But I understand from many of my students who have, that they are all good and absolutely free.

I'd very much appreciate an email telling me of your (good or bad) experience.
